Sakwa, Richard
Russian politics and society

Contents

List of figures ix
List of tables x
Preface to the fourth edition xiii
Acknowledgements xv
Note on style, spelling and transliteration xvi
Glossary of acronyms, acrostics and terms xvii

PART I
The fall of communism and the rebirth of Russia 1

1 Soviet communism and its dissolution 3
   The Soviet system 4
   Perestroika 9
   The emergence of Russia 15
   Popular insurgency and regime decay 19

2 The disintegration of the USSR 25
   The August coup 25
   The disintegration of the USSR 28
   Problems of state-building 35

3 Phoney democracy, 1991-3 40
   Phoney democracy: the road to October 1993 40
   Genesis of a tragedy 47
   The troubled path to the constitution 53

PART II
Political institutions and processes 61

4 Constitutionalism and the law 63
vi  Contents

The 1993 Constitution 63
The Constitutional Court 70
The legal system and its reform 72
Law and constitutionalism 79

5  Crime, corruption and security 83
Crime and the mafia 83
Corruption,-meta-corruption and anti-corruption 86
The security apparatus and politics 96
Human and civil rights 102

6  The executive 105
The presidency 105
The government 113
Prime ministers and their policies 116
Public administration: from nomenklatura to civil service 125

7  Party development 128
Stages of party development 128
Normative framework of party development 141
The party system today 144
Problems of social representation 149

8  Electoral politics 160
Founding elections and electoral management 160
The electoral system and its reform 162
The experience of elections 169
Direct democracy: référendums 183
Electoral engagement 185

9  The legislature 188
Elections to the State Duma 188
Organisation 192
Role 194
The Federation Council (FC) 197

PART III
Nationalism, federalism and regionalism 205

10  National identity and state-building 207
From empire to state 207
Russian nationalism and national identity 213
State-building: borders and citizenship 226
11 Federalism and the new state 236
   Ethno-federalism and its legacy 236
   Russian federalism 245

12 Segmented regionalism and the new federalism 255
   Segmented regionalism 255
   Putin's 'newfederalism' 266
   Segmented regionalism and asymmetrical federalism 281

PART IV
Economy and society 285

13 Russian capitalism 287
   The road to the market 287
   The Russian economy today 299
   Evaluation of market reform 310

14 Society and social movements 314
   Social structure and dynamics 314
   Welfare and incomes 325
   Social movements 330
   Para-constitutionalism and non-governmental organisations (NGOs) 341

15 Cultural transformation 345
   The media 345
   Culture and the intelligentsia 349
   Religion and the state 352
   Political culture and public opinion 354
   The reshaping of values 359

PART V
Foreign, security and neighbourhood policy 363

16 Foreign policy 365
   The evolution of foreign policy 365
   The structure of policy-making 372
   The debate over foreign policy 376
   Russia and the world 382

17 Defence and security policy 392
   The end of the Soviet armed forces 392
Contents

The great retreat 397
Military and security doctrines 399
Nuclear politics and non-proliferation 402
Military reform 405
Civil-military relations 408
New security paradigms 412

18 Commonwealth, community and fragmentation 420
The Commonwealth of Independent States (CIS) 420
Regional organisations 434

PART VI
Dilemmas of démocratisation 441

19 Problems of transition 443
The challenge of history 443
Transitional justice 448
Models of transition 451

20 Democracy in Russia 463
Problems of democracy 463
Regime politics 466
Leadership and regime change 470
A struggling democracy? 473

Appendix: the Russian constitution 478

Notes 514
Select bibliography 567
Index 572