Contents

Table of Legal Sources xi
Table of Ancient Non-Legal Sources xix
Introduction XX

I. Obligations: The Conceptual Map 1
   1. Definition: What is an Obligation? 2
      i. The difference between rights in rem and in personam 11
      ii. Differences between Gaius and Justinian 15
      iii. Outside the institutional scheme 16
   3. Internal Organisation: How Are Obligations Arranged? 16
      i. The classification of obligations used by Gaius 17
      ii. The classification of obligations in Stair 20

Part I. Contracts 26

2. The Organisation of Roman Contract 31
   1. Arrangement of the List in Gaius's and Justinian's Institutes 31
   2. Formal and Informal Contracts 33

3. The Contract Litteris and the Rôle of Writing Generally 37
   1. Justinian's Contract Litteris 41
   2. The Rôle of Writing Outside Contracts Litteris 42
   3. Arra 44
   4. Writing and Stipulations 49

4. Contracts Verbis 52
   1. Dotis Dictio (Declaration of Dowry) 52
   2. Iusiiurandum Liberti (Freedman's Oath) 52
   3. Stipulatio (Stipulation) 53
      i. What was the formality? 53
      ii. Why did stipulation not develop into a general law of contract complete in itself? 57
      iii. What limits were there on the scope of stipulation? 59
      iv. Special applications of stipulation 62
5. Contracts Consensu
   1. Emptio-Venditio (Sale)
      i. The demonstratio
      ii. The intentio
      iii. The action against the buyer
      iv. Risk (periculum)
      v. The passing of property
   2. Locatio-Conductio (Hire)
      i. The demonstratio
      ii. The intentio
   3. Societas (Partnership)
      i. The demonstratio
      ii. The intentio
      iii. The condemnatio
   4. Mandatum (Mandate, Commission or Agency)
      i. The demonstratio
      ii. The intentio
      iii. Special applications

6. Contracts Re
   1. Mutuum (Loan for Consumption)
   2. Commodatum (Loan for Use)
      i. The demonstratio
      ii. The intentio
   3. Depositum (Deposit)
      i. The demonstratio
      ii. The intentio
   4. Pignus (Pledge)
      i. The contract of pignus: the relationship between pledgor and pledgee
      ii. The relationship between pledgee and res

Part II. Delicts

7. Furtum (Theft)
   1. The Action
   2. Paul's Definition
   3. The Intent
   4. The Act
      i. What did contractatio mean to the high classics?
      ii. What did contractatio mean to Justinian?
      iii. Was there an earlier doctrine and nomenclature?
   5. The Absence of Consent
6. Liability for Helping
7. Claiming the Res
8. A Variety of Penalties

8. Kapina (Robbery)

9. Damnum Iniuria Datum (Loss Wrongfully Caused)
   1. The Shape of the Delict
   2. The Statute
   3. Interpretation in the Statutory Core
      i. Has the plaintiff suffered loss (damnum)?
      ii. Did that loss arise from a thing spoiled (res corrupta)?
      iii. Did the spoiled thing belong to the plaintiff (res actoris)?
      iv. Did the defendant do the spoiling 'corpore suo'?
      v. Did the defendant do the harm wrongfully (iniuria)?

4. The Praetorian Periphery
   i. Has the plaintiff suffered loss (damnum)?
   ii. Did that loss arise from a thing spoiled (res corrupta)?
   iii. Did the spoiled thing belong to the plaintiff (res actoris)?
   iv. Did the defendant do the spoiling 'corpore suo'?
   v. Did the defendant do the harm wrongfully (iniuria)?

5. The Measure of Recovery
   i. Lis crescit (the suit enlarges)
   ii. The original measure
   iii. Full value under chapter III?
   iv. The measure in high classical law

10. Iniuria (Contempt)
   1. The Name of the Delict
   2. The Action
   3. The Measure of Recovery
   4. The Edictal Provisions
      i. Of convicium (shouted invective)
      ii. Of affronts to sexual propriety
      iii. 'Let nothing be done to cause infamy'
      iv. The general edict de iniuriis

5. The Scope of the Classical Delict
6. The Classical Scope Re-Stated Summarily
7. Requirements in Relation to Intention
8. The History
    i. The edictal phase
    ii. The pre-edictal phase
9. Some Ancillary Features
   i. Recollections in tranquillity
   ii. A year to sue
   iii. The counter-iudicium
   iv. The lex Cornelia de iniuriis
   v. Dependent persons

Part III. Miscellaneous Other Categories

11. The Quasi Categories
   1. The Content of the Quasi Categories
   2. The Ideas behind the Quasi Categories

Appendices

Extracts from Gaius's and Justinian's Institutes
Translated by the author

Questions

Further Publications by Peter Birks

Index